

Longi applies for solar inverter patent

Overview

Leading manufacturers LONGi and JinkoSolar have ended all global patent disputes, entering a cross-licensing agreement for core technologies. The photovoltaic industry is gradually shifting from price-driven competition to a new era of high-quality growth fueled by technological innovation. LONGi Green Energy Technology Co. have agreed to settle their patent lawsuits to help promote growth in an industry that has struggled with overcapacity and deep losses.

Longi applies for solar inverter patent

LONGi vs JinkoSolar, Patent Battle Between PV Producers Extends

In early January 2025, JinkoSolar filed a patent infringement lawsuit against LONGi in a court in Jiangxi Province, China. JinkoSolar claims to have accumulated more than 2,800 patents, including a ...

LONGi and JinkoSolar reach global settlement on patent disputes

LONGi Green Energy and JinkoSolar announce a worldwide settlement of patent disputes, including cross-licensing of core patents, highlighting shared commitment to innovation and ...

Jinko and LONGi end patent lawsuits

Leading Chinese PV manufacturers JinkoSolar and LONGi Green Energy have agreed to terminate ongoing patent lawsuits, and enter into a "cross-licensing agreement" pertaining to ...

Joint Statement on Patent Settlement between LONGi Green Energy

Building on this shared commitment, LONGi Green Energy and JinkoSolar announced on September 19, 2025, that the two companies and their affiliates have reached a settlement ...

Two Chinese Solar Giants End Legal Fight as Industry Struggles

LONGi Green Energy Technology Co. and Jinko Solar Co. have agreed to settle their patent lawsuits to help promote growth in an industry that has struggled with overcapacity and deep ...

JinkoSolar and Longi End Global Patent Battles, Agree to Share

JinkoSolar and Longi, two of the biggest names in the solar industry, have struck a wide-ranging settlement that brings their long-running patent disputes to a close.

LONGi and JinkoSolar Settle Global Patent Disputes, Announce Cross

Leading manufacturers LONGi and JinkoSolar have ended all global patent disputes, entering a cross-licensing agreement for core technologies.

LONGi and JinkoSolar settle global patent

dispute

LONGi Green Energy and JinkoSolar reached a global settlement terminating all worldwide patent litigation between the companies and their affiliates. The agreement includes cross ...

JinkoSolar, Longi settle global patent dispute with cross-licensing

JinkoSolar and Longi said they and their affiliates reached a global settlement covering all ongoing patent litigation. The agreement ends lawsuits in China, the United States, Europe, Japan

The photovoltaic patent war is heating up! Jinko sued LONGi for ...

In 2019, South Korean company Hanwha sued LONGi Green Energy, Trina Solar, JinkoSolar and others for patent infringement in courts in many places. After years of tug-of-war, ...

Contact Us

For catalog requests, pricing, or partnerships, please visit:

<https://www.id2market.eu>

Phone: +34 910 56 87 45

Email: info@id2market.eu

Scan the QR code to access our WhatsApp.

